Please let me introduce myself. I am Greg Chappell and I live in Australia. I am currently working with Cricket Australia.

You may know that several years ago I was the Indian cricket coach. During that time I had a wonderful experience living in India with my wife, Judy. The sights and the people were fantastic and it was a life changing experience for us both.

As well as coaching cricket, I also met some very clever business people and I expanded my business interests with some of these people. In addition to this I continued my long association with Dr Dale Gerke who is a friend and business colleague in Australia.

During and following my association with the Indian cricket side, Dr Dale and I have been involved with setting up a new company called MiVeda, which manufactures brilliant personal care, health and nutrition products. I am a director of this company.

We are now launching MiVeda in India. I can honestly say that this is a huge business opportunity. The chance is enormous to make very large incomes from this venture and we are looking for people to help us establish this business around India. The capital outlay is relatively small but the financial rewards can be extremely high.

We need people to be leaders in many more regions and cities in India.

I would like to stress to you that this is a very good chance to create a very large income for yourself if you are prepared to get involved and work hard over the next few years. It is not a job but rather a business of your own which you can operate part time and from home if you want. The timing is incredibly good for this and the chance is yours if you want it.

We at MiVeda look forward to helping you change your life.

Regards
